Revision: 06 - 05 - 2017

Actions to Stop Doing
- Throughout this Release we have learned what to stop doing, and we seem to be working very well at this point as a Scrum group

Actions to Start Doing
- We should start making our Tuesday and Thursday meetings a regular weekly event
- The team should start considering what user stories we have time to complete in the given time constraint and prioritize those user stories.

Actions to Keep Doing
- The team should continue scheduling more group work sessions, so we can work together to develop the application.
- The team should continue using slack as communication methods because it is efficient and spreads the word well.
- The team should continue to pair program with other team members
